

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP IN CLOUD BUSINESS: EVOK JOINS THE SEQUOTECH GROUP

Press release – 25/06/2024

David Hueber (CEO, Sequotech), Antoine Rosset (CEO, EVOK), Aurélien Perret (CTO, EVOK), Grégory Steulet (CFO, Sequotech)

EVOK, a trusted and established IT services provider based in Fribourg, is joining the Sequotech Group. The integration of EVOK into the Swiss IT services group aligns with Sequotech's ambition to consolidate its position as the leading IT services group in Western Switzerland. EVOK joins the group's existing companies – dbi services, UDITIS, exxo it-services, and agency – which now employ more than 250 employees. Sequotech thus continues its growth strategy, which began in November 2020 with the investment of Verium, a multi-family office based in Zurich. EVOK's CEO Antoine Rosset and CTO Aurélien Perret both remain with the company. Moreover, they become shareholders of Sequotech and join the group's management team.

EVOK

Antoine Rosset, CEO
rosset@evok.com

Aurélien Perret, CTO
perret@evok.com

Sequotech

David Hueber, CEO
media@sequotech.com

Verium

Rogier Engelsma
rogier.engelsma@verium.ch

About Sequotech

Sequotech is a Swiss group of specialized IT services companies aiming to develop a strong position in the Swiss market and in neighboring countries. The companies that currently make up the group are dbi services SA, UDITIS SA, exxo it-services AG, agency GmbH as well as EVOK. The group's vision is to further strengthen its position by adding one or two partners per year in order to become one of the leading providers of specialized IT services in the DACH region.

Leading position in Western Switzerland

Sequotech's acquisition of EVOK expands its presence in Western Switzerland, particularly in Fribourg, Vaud, and Geneva. It also enhances the group's portfolio with EVOK's leading cloud and managed services expertise and specialist services. Drawing on the expertise of the Fribourg-based company's experienced and highly qualified team, Sequotech is set to become the region's leading IT services provider.

"This acquisition is an important milestone for Sequotech and fully aligns with our strategy to expand our presence in Western Switzerland, reinforcing our commitment to delivering high-quality IT services," says David Hueber, CEO of Sequotech.

Antoine Rosset, CEO of EVOK: "Becoming part of the Sequotech Group allows us to benefit from the advantages of a large organization while keeping our independent spirit. Sequotech brings together companies that share common vision and values, which allows for great agility within the group. In addition, this collaboration brings new chances for growth and opens up exciting opportunities for our team."

About EVOK

Founded in 1998, EVOK operates in the cantons of Fribourg, Vaud and Geneva and employs nearly 40 people. As a one-stop shop for customers throughout French-speaking Switzerland, EVOK provides powerful, efficient and secure IT solutions, both in the cloud and on site. EVOK works with companies of all sizes (3 to 500 users) and places great emphasis on human contact.